Yorgo Tloupas works as an art director and designer. He got his start with Crash magazine in 1998. In 2001, Tloupas launched Intersection magazine and continues to work with major brands including Lacoste, Kenzo, and Hennessy.

Invitation for Lacoste.

What is your favorite French meal?

Cheese. I know it's not a meal but I can easily lunch or dine on cheese only.

What is your favorite sex position?

It needs six legs to happen (no animals involved).

How many girls have you had sex with?

Less than André for sure, but more than Yves Saint Laurent.

What do you think about America?

They had a few great decades. Shame about the decline.

What is illegal for you?

I (safely) run about 50 – 70 traffic lights per day on my bike. At €90 each, my yearly bill would exceed €1.500.000.
